Kia ora te whānau

Despite this dismal 'Summer' weather classes are humming, children are happy and good class routines are being established. But aren't we, in Wellington, so lucky not to have faced the cyclonic conditions of other parts of the motu. We hope that you have all been able to connect with families who have been out of contact over this time and that any whanau in the affected parts are doing well.

Introducing our Kaiārahi:

This week we continue to introduce our Glenview staff. We have replaced the term 'teacher aide' with 'kaiārahi' to describe our wonderful team who guide, support and assist with the education of our learners. We are fortunate to have such a skilled team.

Paid Union Meeting – school closing early

School will be closing at lunch time on 28 February as teachers will be attending a compulsory union meeting as part of the negotiation of their Collective Employment Agreement.

Please pick children up at 1pm. Van children will be dropped off in the usual order from 1pm.

Whānau Lounge

A message from Whaea Anne –

You, as Glenview whānau are welcome to use the free wifi and internet at school. Come in any time during school hours but especially on Thursdays.

Fathers, men, grandfathers and other male carers – watch this space. We are planning some events over 2023 just for you.

Come and chat.

I am at school on Thursdays when the flag is flying

Student Tiredness

Some of our teachers have noticed that their students are coming to school feeling tired. It could be because they are busy getting used to being back at school and being in their new classes or it could be because they aren't getting enough sleep.

Lack of sleep can cause children to be tired and cranky. It can reduce their immune systems, making them more prone to illness and also have a negative effect on how they learn.

School age children between 5-13 years old should be having between 9-11 hours of sleep per night and adults should be having between 7-9 hours of sleep.

Late or Absent Student

If your child is going to be late or away any day, please contact us by 9am to let us know.
